

Letter of Intent

SwiperNoSwiping

WHAT THIS IS

I want SwiperNoSwiping to exist. I am putting $5 behind that.

WHAT SWIPERNOSWIPING IS

A browser extension that covers the buy button and makes you justify the purchase to an AI before it lets you through.

If your reason is bad, it says no, and it tells you what to buy instead. If your reason is actually good, it gets out of the way and lets you buy the thing.

WHAT I UNDERSTAND

1. It does not exist yet. That is sort of the whole point of this letter.
2. My $5 is not really a purchase. It is a bet.
3. If it never ships, I get the $5 back. No forms, no argument, no "well actually."
4. None of this is binding on anybody. It is a letter of intent, not a contract. Nobody is suing anybody over five dollars.

WHAT I GET

Founding member. Lifetime access when it ships. No subscription, ever, for as long as this thing exists.

Also the right to tell people I impulse bought an app that exists to stop me from impulse buying. Which is funny, and worth something on its own.

THE SMALL PRINT, HONESTLY

We are a few people at a hackathon and we built this in about three hours. It might turn into something real. It might go absolutely nowhere. You are handing us $5 to find out which.

If you want that $5 back at any point, for any reason, just ask. It comes back. We are not going to make you justify it.

That would be a little too on brand.
